

ComancheZOOM for February 25, 2021

Topic: Surviving a Catastrophic Engine Failure part 2: the Aircraft Recovery
with William Carpenter

This ComancheZOOM is the second in a series recounting Will Carpenter's experiences when dealing with a catastrophic engine failure while flying his Comanche, and his emergency landing in a Carolina bean field. In this session Will describes the recovery of his aircraft and delivery to a repair shop.

He describes his efforts to deal with the various authorities and with his insurance adjuster to arrange for the recovery – who and how to do it, and where to take the aircraft for repair. How he went about finding a repair shop with Comanche experience, or at least willing to learn. There are lots of tips on what the recovery process involved and how to prevent some of the later problems.

Will is returning in two later Zooms to recount his experience working with the insurance company and rebuilding and upgrading the airplane.
