

ComancheZOOM for July 27, 2023

Topic: Live from ComancheTown at OshKosh

Tonight's ComancheZOOM featured a quick video tour of the area known as ComancheTown North. Many of the Comanches that were parked there for the previous days, filling it to capacity, were in the process of departing due to the extreme heat and an approaching storm front. CJ was able to share video fo the area using her call phone, and to screen share a couple of videos of the departing aircraft in the very long conga line headed for the runway.

There was a lot of talk early on about continuing problems with electronic ignition and landing height installations, with a number of helpful suggestions.

Enjoy the insider look at ComancheTown thanks to the efforts of CJ. Her phone was on it's last bit of power so we ended the Zoom earlier than usual.
