Gifts From the Feds - WINGS and ASRS

Why WINGS? How Do I Get Started? What is the value for pilots and CFIs?
And, why file NASA ASRS reports when not “required?”

Tonight Phillip Mandel discusses two of the best gifts the federal government offers pilots: the FAA's WINGS Pilot Proficiency Program and NASA's Aviation Safety Reporting System (ASRS). Sadly, they are two of the least understood. Find out why you want to participate in these wonderful programs.

The presenter, Philip Mandel, promised to make it easy for you by providing specific examples of how to earn WINGS Phases and how (and why) to submit ASRS reports.

Due to the extended time covering the WINGS program, and the many questions dealt with, the ASRS form portion was tabled to another evening in the near future.

This ComancheZOOM was available for WINGS credit, requiring 59 minutes or more of online attendance.
